PATRICIA L. BROOKS LAUNCHES FIRST BOOK,
“GIFTS OF SISTERHOOD,”
FOR WOMEN’S RECOGNITION MONTH

SCOTTSDALE, Arizona, February 2005 – Local Scottsdale resident, now published author, Patricia L. Brooks is launching her first book entitled “Gifts of Sisterhood – a journey on to your own” at the ASU-Downtown Campus for Women’s Recognition Month, Wednesday, March 2nd, in memory of her sister who gave generously many special gifts that needed to be shared.

The book is an inspirational portrait of a relationship of two sisters who were friends, confidants and soul mates. The book shows wit, courage and faith during times of need and challenge, as well as insight into a philosophy of life worth emulating by inspiring you to write about your gifts.

Patricia takes you from northern Michigan, where they grew up in small town Americana, to their roots in County Tipperary, Ireland. The journey is fresh and uplifting, moving and generous in its account of this sister’s perspective of a life worth remembering, and of the words her sister lived by.

She will be speaking from 12:00-1:00 p.m. on what inspired her to write the book and how she wrote the book. Please RSVP for this ASU-Downtown immediately with Chris Kyselka at 480-727-5266 or <http://xedreg.asu.edu> Seating is limited. The event is sponsored, and open to the public at no charge.

Patricia is owner of Patricia L. Brooks Seminars (www.plbrooks.com), is associate faculty at Arizona State University – East Campus where she teaches marketing. She is a member of the Phoenix Writers Club, the Women Writers of the Desert, the National Association of Women Writers, and the Arizona Small Business Association.

Patricia holds a Masters Degree in Organizational Management, was recently named to “Who’s Who of America’s Teachers,” and as an outstanding presenter for the Arizona Small Business Association. She can be reached for more information on the book and an invitation to her upcoming book signing “party” at patricia@plbrooks.com or 480-250-5556. She is available to speak to your group or organization regarding the above topics or how she is marketing the book in 2005. See www.plbrooks.com for her credentials in the marketing arena, seminar topics that can be used as a basis for the book presentation, testimonials from friends and clients and other published articles.
